EDANA

Innovation

FORUM | Nonwovens for Society

11 – 12 JUNE 2025

STATION F | PARIS

Innovation is a condition for business continuity and growth. By showcasing your innovations, you help shape the future of an industry that balances cutting-edge advancements with a commitment to sustainability.

The Innovation Forum is held at Station F. A unique campus and community, with 1,000 startups and 30+ incubators programs. As a hub of creativity and pioneering ideas, it cultivates bold thinking and innovative solutions.

To ensure an immersive and highly engaging atmosphere, we are limiting registration for this edition so make sure to reserve your spot!

We welcome presentations on :

- ⇒ Best practices & real-life examples for innovating in the nonwoven industry
- ⇒ Innovations, across the Technology Readiness Level, in 3 categories:
 - Materials - Technology - Applications
